Juvenile charged

BY DENA BISNETTE

A 17-year-old male juvenile has been taken into custody in connection with the theft of mock warfare equipment from a Dedeaux residence.

The youth was charged with burglary of a dwelling. He was taken into custody Tuesday by Sheriff Ronald Peterson and has been turned over to Hancock County Youth Court authorities. Investigator Delbert Seay stated.

The burglary had occurred the same day.

The items taken included two paint guns and paint-filled ammunition, Seay added.

Local students improve on functional literacy test

BY D.C. HARVILL

Area high school administrators are pleased with the recently released results of the Functional Literacy test.

According to the results of the test administered to juniors last year, five percent of Bay St. Louis students tested failed the exam, while Hancock's failure rate was four percent compared with a state average of seven percent.

Beginning this year seniors must pass the test, designed to measure a student's reading, writing and math abilities, in order to graduate.

When a preliminary test was administered in 1986 86.7 percent of Bay St. Louis students passed the test while the state pass rate was 71 percent.

Bay Schools Test Coordinator, Gloria Dean attributes the decreased failure rate to improved education in for students who needed remedial help.

"We pretested all 11th graders with a test similar to the Functional Literacy test and were able to identify those students who needed remediation."

"We then formed remedial classes in reading, writing and math, both during and after school for those who had weaknesses in the areas of concentration."

Dean also thinks the test put pressure on students to try harder.

Because the students knew they had to pass the exam to graduate there was enough anxiety to make them want to perform at their best."

She also credits state-wide coverage of the test with prompting families to pressure students to improve.

Hancock Schools also established a program for spotting students who needed help and then providing it.

"We only have two students who haven't passed it so far, and they have been retested," Superintendent of Education Terrell Randolph said.

"When we started remedial classes for students we thought we might have 35 students who were in jeopardy of failing. As it turned out we only had five who failed, but when the writing portion of the test came back, all but two passed."

The way the test works if a student doesn't pass the reading and math sections of the test, his writing score if high enough may be used to bring his overall score up to passing.

"We are proud of what we've accomplished this year," Randolph said.

Speaking of changes made under the Education Reform Act of 1982, Randolph said, "We have the most improved school district in the state. The state is serious about education and we are serious."

Some critics of the test argue that the exam only causes students to memorize material expected to be on the test, while their education as a whole is not improved.

Randolph admits the test may cause students to put more emphasis on core objectives and not on elective subjects, but says the test is a valuable tool.

"The test is only a means of identifying weaknesses and strengths so we can work on them," he said.

"The test identifies problems and gives us some answers," he added.

State Superintendent of Education Richard Boyd said, "We are improving for the third straight year. We are pleased but not completely satisfied. Math is still a problem."

Tideland commission meets in Bay St. Louis Tuesday

BY D.C. HARVILL

The homes of some Hancock County residents may stand on property which belongs to the state, and the future of those homes could be determined by the recommendation made by the Blue Ribbon Commission on Public Trust Tidelands.

Residents of Hancock County will have an opportunity Tuesday to be a part of the process to determine the policy governing the property in question, when the commission holds a public hearing in the courtroom of Hancock County Courthouse at 6 p.m.

The hearing and committee meetings preceding it were originally scheduled for August 9, but were postponed because of Tropical Storm Beryl.

The commission, comprised of citizens from the three coastal counties with various fields of expertise applicable to the issue, was formed by Secretary of State Dick Molpus earlier this year to help determine a definitive policy for the state pertaining to tidelands.

The Secretary of State found it necessary to establish such a policy after a Supreme Court ruling in the Cinque Bambini case upheld the state's claim to tidal lands.

In Cinque Bambini (Italian for five children) the heirs of James Crump sued the state over the title to lands along Jourdan River in Hancock County when the state sold mineral rights to property the heirs had leased to another party.

A major difficulty in the policy-making process is in determining what land belongs to the state, since under federal law the state owns all property which was subject to an average high tide when Mississippi became a state in 1817.

Since the coastline has changed drastically due to natural and man-made causes the state's original coastline cannot be readily determined.

Several subdivision developments in Hancock County, including Shoreline Park and Garden Isles, are expected to come under scrutiny since some

Pier permits selling, some still oppose fee

BY DENA BISNETTE

Although the Waveland Board of Aldermen has received a petition asking that fees for the improved Garfield Ladner Memorial Pier be rescinded, not everyone appears to be opposed to the charges.

Mayor John Longo said almost 300 family permits for the pier have already been sold.

The fees caused dissension among the aldermen at first but were finally settled on at $12 per year for a family permit, or $3 per day for fishing and $1 per day for anyone who wants to use the pier but not to fish.

The board's intention, according to Longo, is to use the money generated by those fees for insurance, maintenance and the salaries of rangers whose presence on the pier is designed to keep order and protect the facility from vandalism.

The 60-signature petition, brought to city hall before the meeting Wednesday night and read aloud by Longo, alleged that the fees are illegal, that proper procedure was not followed in setting the amounts and that the definition of family being used as the criteria for selling family permits is discriminatory.

The family permits include the head of the family, spouse and all minor children living at home. Adult children may purchase their own permits.

The petition further states that the signers do not feel that the fees will generate enough money to pay the rangers and asks by what criteria the rangers were selected.

"Maybe after a few months you can rescind these fees," the petition concluded.

Alderman Bob Hubbard said about a third of the signatures can not be verified because they do not have addresses or telephone numbers noted with them.

The petition was taken under advisement.

However, Alderman Stella

Frilot stated, "I don't even think we should dignify this thing by commenting on it at all. A dollar a month is not too much for anybody to pay."

On Friday, the aldermen took bids for paving work on the old section of the pier, which will provide better access to the new lighted, wooden section.

A dedication ceremony is set for 10 a.m. Aug. 27.

Also on Wednesday, the board decided to discontinue work sessions prior to regular meetings.

Peoples Bank, Gulf National merger becomes effective

Glenn L. Swetman, chairman of the board of Peoples Financial Corporation, and John C. Thompson, chairman of the board of Gulf National Bank, in a joint statement have announced that all of the necessary provisions of the merger agreement dated Dec. 23, 1987 between the two financial institutions have been satisfied.

Accordingly, effective Aug. 20, the Gulf National Bank has merged into and become a part of The Peoples Financial Corporation.

The Peoples Bank was chartered on April 2, 1896. The bank opened its door for business on April 13, 1896, with an initial capital of $35,000.

Peoples Financial Corporation was chartered on Dec. 18, 1984, and is registered under the Bank Holding Company Act. In October 1985, The Peoples Bank became a wholly owned subsidiary of Peoples Financial Corporation.

Peoples Financial Corporation also wholly own PFC Service Corporation. PFC Service Corporation conducts a leasing financing business and serves as the bank's marketing and advertising agency.

The Gulf National Bank was chartered on June 27, 1944, and opened its doors for business on Aug. 7, 1944. The initial capital of the bank was $100,000.

The Peoples Bank will now have twelve locations throughout the Mississippi Gulf Coast. Five offices are located in Biloxi, two are in Gulfport, and one each in Bay St. Louis, d'Iberville, Ocean Springs, Orange Grove and Pass Christian. The combined assets of the bank are now in excess of $275,000,000. This now makes The Peoples Bank the 10th largest bank in the State of Mississippi.

Glenn L. Swetman also announced that the president and chief executive officer is Chevis C. Swetman. Other key executive officers are F. Walker Tucei of Biloxi and Andy Carpenter of Ocean Springs. The bank will employ 175 people.

President Chevis Swetman stated: "We are very delighted to be merging with Gulf National Bank. It is a natural fit. We are both locally owned and have strong customer ties to the Gulf Coast."

"The Peoples Bank has been strong in Biloxi and the North Biloxi-d'Iberville areas. Gulf has a significant influence in Gulfport, West Harrison County and Hancock County areas."

He further stated: "We have some new products and services that we will be offering. For example, due to the increased capital we will be able to enlarge our lending limits to any one customer. We will be providing access to the Gulfnet-ATM network to all of our old Gulf customers. We will also be expanding our trust and investment service products."

The merger agreement provided that not more than 35% of the Gulf National stock would be exchanged for cash. Gulf shareholders owning less than 24 shares are to be paid $42 for each of their old Gulf shares exchanged on a one-for-one basis into Peoples Financial preferred stock. 72% of the Gulf shareholders selected a combination of cash and shares of preferred. Based on the available cash formula, those shareholders will have approximately 42% of their old Gulf stock paid out in cash and 58% converted into the new issue of Peoples Preferred.

Chairman Glenn L. Swet-

man concluded by welcoming all old Gulf shareholders as new shareholders of Peoples Financial Corporation. He stated: "I feel that the combined strength of The Peoples Bank and Gulf National Bank will provide a much needed service to the entire Mississippi Gulf Coast and will benefit you as a stockholder in Peoples Financial."

The market total value of the cash and stock excess is in excess of $8,800,000.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Some very good entertainment should be on tap Wednesday night at the City Park in Bay St. Louis. Music is to be provided by the the Air Force Skypower Band and admission is free for the Rock In The Park Concert sponsored by the Bay St. Louis Business Association.

The band is scheduled to begin to play at 7:30 p.m., and the Gulf Coast Barber Shop Quartet is also scheduled to entertain.

Tyson McMahon is chairman for the festivities and he indicates there will be a great night of entertainment.

The Bay St. Louis Business Association recently changed its name from the Bay St. Louis Downtown Merchants Association.

We can well remember the Cajun Night held not too long ago at City Hall Park which drew almost 2,000 spectators.

We hope to see you at the concert.

The Kiln Council of the Knights of Columbus is sponsoring a Barbeque Festival at the Old Dedeaux School in Dedeaux on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

A softball tournament will be played on the four nights with a Fish Fry on Friday night.

On Saturday and Sunday some very good food will be available. Items such as barbequed chicken, goat burgers, barbequed goat, goat po-boys, and hamburgers will be available.

Proceeds from the festival will be used by the Knights of Columbus for their many community projects.

I will be looking forward to eating some of the barbequed goat.

Have you ever noticed after a wind storm the many piles of trash waiting to be collected by the garbage men?

Some homeowners make nice neat piles of the debris while others just spread it all over the place.

Some folks fail to remind themselves of the ordinances set by our cities for the preparation of certain debris.

If you have any question about what debris is collected and the proper preparation, you should give your city hall a telephone call.

Several schools have already opened while others are to begin classes within the next few days.

This means school buses are in operation, and motorists need to be on the alert. It is unlawful to pass a school bus while students are loading or unloading.

Some students also ride bicycles to and from school, so motorists have to be on the lookout for students.

Reduced speed limits are also in effect for school zones and crossing guards are stationed by some schools.

It is hoped all students will also be careful going to and returning from school so everyone will have a safe school year.

IN CONGRESS

By Representative Trent Lott

More than 50 years ago, a member of Congress was walking past the Capitol as a workman replaced a worn and tattered flag that had been flown over the building. The congressman asked the worker if he might have the old flag to give to one of his friends back home. The workman agreed and a tradition was born.

Since then, more than a million flags have been flown over the Capitol. Today, they are flying high in front of homes, schools and government buildings.

Offering these flags to citizens is one of the most popular services we have to offer. My Washington office has processed hundreds of these requests. "Old Glory" is still in high demand.

Keeping up these requests keeps a staff of workmen very busy. Every morning, on the west front of the Capitol, just below the giant dome, the workers gather at three special flag poles. At each pole, a new flag is taken out of its box, fastened to the rope and hoisted aloft. Then, after a brief moment of waving in the wind, it is taken down, neatly folded, and returned to its box for delivery. These flags are available at a nominal cost and each comes with its own certificate of authenticity.

It is not difficult to understand why so many Mississippians have requested these special flags.

After all, there is truly something special about the sight of the stars and stripes flying proudly atop the Capitol, the building and the symbol that best represent the American ideals of liberty, freedom and justice for all.

OUR HERITAGE

A Frontiersman's Inauguration

Early next year, we will inaugurate a new president of the United States at the Capitol in Washington, D.C. Whether it is a Democrat or Republican, the inauguration is certain to be an event marked by a serious speech, a parade down Pennsylvania Avenue and extremely high security. Some recent presidents have tried to break this mold — Jimmy Carter walked the inaugural parade route in 1977 — but no matter how hard the new president tries to bring his inauguration to the people, nothing will ever match Andrew Jackson's presidential inauguration of 1829.

Jackson, a national hero for leading the American forces to victory in the Battle of New Orleans in the War of 1812, ran for president in 1828 as the people's candidate. Born in a log cabin in what is now North Carolina, he was a true frontiersman and appealed to the common man. Affectionately known as "Old Hickory," he was the first president of the United States who was not from either Virginia or Massachusetts.

On March 4, 1829, a huge crowd of the common people who helped make Jackson president came to Washington, D.C., for his inauguration. What happened was very different from any of the inaugurations that had come before — or since.

"When the speech was over and the president made his parting bow, the barrier that had separated the people from him was broken down, and they rushed up the steps all eager to shake hands with him," a contemporary of Jackson's recalled years later. "It was with difficulty that he made his way through the Capitol and down the hill to the gateway that opens on the avenue."

Jackson mounted his horse for his inaugural ride down Pennsylvania Avenue to the White House, the throng trailing behind him. When the mob reached the White House, where Jackson was to give a reception for government officials, it did not stop. Frontiersmen, backwoodsmen, laborers and war veterans forced their way into the White House to celebrate the inauguration of their hero. Some stood on fancy chairs in their muddy boots to see Jackson while others pushed aside members of Congress and their wives to get to tables of food, smashing White House china.

The new president was pushed up against the wall by the tide of well-wishers and had to be protected by a ring of friends who linked arms to create a barrier around him. He eventually was forced to escape the White House through a back door. The partying crowd, however, did not leave until their square dancing was done several hours later.

FROM THE CAPITOL

Task force organized to combat heat emergencies

A multi-agency state task force to assist elderly persons and those with handicaps during heat emergencies has been organized by the Governor's Office of Federal-State Programs (FSP).

"We're trying to coordinate on the state level assistance to the elderly and individuals who are handicapped during days of extreme heat," said Royal Walker, director of FSP's Department of Human Development. "In case of emergency, we are going to give priority to these persons."

FSP is the lead agency for the task force. Other state agencies participating are the Department of Health, Department of Mental Health, Department of Public Welfare, Department of Energy and Transportation and the Medicaid Commission. FSP Department of Human Development units involved in the effort include the Mississippi Council on Aging and the Office of Energy and Community Services.

Services to the elderly and individuals with handicaps in times of heat emergency will be coordinated by Mississippi's 10 area agencies on aging. The task force has sent letters to all municipalities in the state seeking their assistance.

"We are asking the municipalities to work with the area agencies on aging," Walker said. "We want to make sure that on very hot days they assist us in identifying individuals who are at risk because of excessive heat."

He added that assistance which might be offered includes providing an electric fan or transportation to a shelter. The task force also is seeking assistance from the private sector. "A businessman or any other individual might want to donate a fan for an elderly person or for someone with a handicap," Walker said. Such donations may be made to the area agencies on aging or directly to needy individuals.

Services already provided by area agencies on aging during heat emergencies include making nutrition sites and senior centers available as heat shelters, supplying fans and having homemakers, case managers and volunteers observe conditions in homes during visits. Community action agencies also are providing various services.

There were 204 reports of heat-related deaths in Mississippi between 1980 and 1987. Elderly persons are most vulnerable to excessive heat, according to the Mississippi Council on Aging.

WASHINGTON REPORT

From The Office of Senator Thad Cochran

Drought relief bill passed by Senate

Senator Thad Cochran says a Senate-passed drought relief bill is the "most comprehensive" ever shaped by Congress. "This legislation is very sensitive to the needs of those who have suffered from the drought," the senator commented.

Senator Cochran was one of six senators on the special Congressional task force that drafted the legislation.

He pointed out the bill provides drought relief for American farmers and ranchers for row crops such as cotton, rice, soybeans, corn and wheat, for livestock and dairy farmers, and a guaranteed loan program for small businesses in rural areas damaged by the drought.

The Senator said one provision, for tree farmers, was "particularly important in the Southeast" where farmers have been encouraged to plant seedlings on their less productive land.

Cochran said that Congress and the administration, led by Agriculture Secretary Richard Lyng and the President, responded promptly when it became evident this summer the drought was "severe and widespread."

The conference report, which is expected to be taken up later this week in the House, provides for about $4 billion in drought relief.

"This is the most generous drought relief package ever fashioned by Congress," Cochran commented. "And, is responsible fiscally."

The bill provides for up to 65 percent of target price payments for program crops such as cotton, rice, corn, wheat or oats which suffer up to 35 percent loss, and for 65 percent of the average market price for soybeans suffering a similar loss. Disaster payments up to $100,000 per farmer are allowed.

Tree farmers could get up to $25,000 for drought losses for commercial trees or seedlings.

Side Street Crossings

By Dena Bisnette

School starts again next week.

The only part of being a University of Southern Mississippi graduate student that I don't entirely like is registration. I even like exams to some extent but registration is another story.

While the little kids are registered by their parents and the high school and junior high students are filling in forms, we college people get to stand in line.

USM-Gulf Coast has three registrations this week. On Wednesday, those who attend classes at Keesler can register from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Arnold Hall. Jackson County center students can register from 5:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

USM's Gulf Park campus in Long Beach has its registration from 2:30 p.m. until 6:30 p.m. Thursday. I always register in Long Beach because it's where all my classes meet.

Registration there isn't as bad as it used to be. The process has become considerably streamlined now that computers are used.

First, a student goes through the Bank Window routine, standing in line to pick up registration materials from an always smiling clerk.

The second phase is The Hunt. The student has to locate his academic advisor, get the correct class number and a signature and proceed to the cafeteria building.

The next step is what I call the Supermarket Check-out trip. The students "buy" their classes by going through a series of stops where their paperwork is stamped, checked, ripped and reduced by half, then pay at the last table in line. The equivalent of green stamps, orange computer cards that the professors were supposed to collect the first night their classes meet, aren't used any more.

I kind of miss them. My teachers waited until the last possible class meeting to collect the cards and they made great bookmarks. Maybe that's why I always lost my place in the book mid-semester.

The bookstore is still busy from last term. Once I waited until the first night of class to get my book; they were out and I had to fake it for a couple of weeks. Now I grab my book right after registration. Unfortunately, so does everybody else; the line snakes all through the shelves and doubles back on itself twice.

Registration waits for no one. Last term, I had a nice visit with Dean Joe Holloway, who was in line too. I asked if he was taking a class and he wasn't. He was registering his daughter and stood in line with her because he had the checkbook.

Speaking of checkbooks, it's okay to leave them at home now. Did you know that you can put your Ph.D. on a credit card? I don't remember Visa or Mastercharge being accepted at USM when I started in 1980 at the Hattiesburg campus, but I didn't give in to the plastic mania and accept a card myself until 1983.

Registration certainly isn't what it used to be. It was associated with horror stories back on the main campus in 1980, when the one trick a registering student had to know best was avoid electrical cords all over the floor of the Reed Green Coliseum.

That's right; we registered in the coliseum. Who cared if the class you needed was closed; the walking would kill you.

Parking there was terrible and still is now, or, if you were living there as I did, somebody dropped you off and you had to drag all your stuff to the top floor of the dorm first.

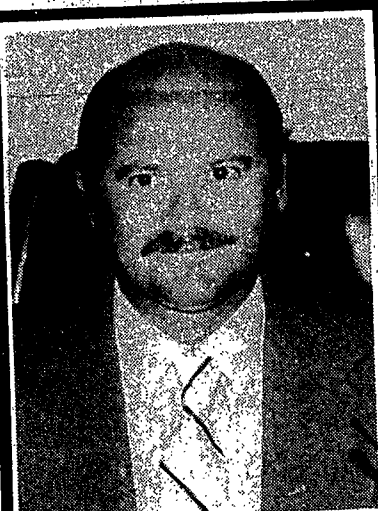

The view from the top step of the coliseum was terrific. The floor looked like an ant farm with computers.

I like it much better at Gulf Park. Registration can take as little as under one hour, not counting the bookstore line. It's a painless process now, as long as I don't wear high heels.

Interior Design

Ready for a change but not sure where to start? A program on inexpensive ways to decorate your home will be taught Monday, Aug. 22, 9:30 to noon at the Bay St. Louis Library.

The class will cover selection of framing materials for pictures, ideas for displaying collections, and inexpensive decorating ideas including window treatments and pillows. The participants will also learn how to work with an interior designer.

The program is free and open to any interested individual.

Nutritious Meals

That Appeal To Children

Planning nutritious meals that appeal to children is not always an easy task.

Start with the basic four food groups (fruits and vegetables, breads and cereals, milk and milk products, meat and meat alternates), then add variety. Keep color, flavor, texture and shape in mind as you plan.

Color: Choose foods such as orange carrots, purple plums, green peas and red radishes. Children, like adults, like things that are appealing to the eye. Combine the natural colors of foods in meals to appeal to children.

Flavor: Mild milk, sweet applesauce, spicy chicken coating and tart pickled beets will add flavor variety. Meals that contain all bland tasting foods or all bold flavored foods are less appealing than those that have a combination of flavors.

Texture: Whether you think about textures or not, variations, such as soft mashed potatoes, crispy celery, creamy pudding, chewy meat and smooth peanut butter, will make meals more interesting. Much of the appeal of a meal comes from variations in textures of the foods. Combine soft, crispy, chewy and creamy whenever possible.

Shape: Some shape is dictated by nature, such as round peas. Other shapes can be determined by the cook—triangular toast, cucumber strips, diced potatoes or grated carrots. Variations in shapes will also make the meal much more interesting to children.

For a special treat, let your child decorate ordinary foods. Make faces on hamburger buns with green olives and pimento. Turn a pear half into an animal with raisin eyes and apple slice ears.

Decorate open face sandwiches with processed cheese slice designs with a cookie cutter. Make pancakes into artwork by forming shapes with the batter. Hard-cooked eggs can be dyed any time of the year.

Planning a nutritionally balanced meal may not be as difficult as getting children to eat the meal. Keep variety in meals and involve children in simple preparation whenever possible.

Two sought

BY DENA BISNETTE

A 34-foot skiff stolen from a Slidell, La., resident Tuesday has been recovered, but local authorities are still seeking two suspects in the case.

According to Stanley Hamilton of the Mississippi Department of Wildlife Conservation, the Lafitte skiff is valued at about $40,000 and was found beached in the Heron Bay area.

The two suspects allegedly told the occupants of another boat that they had engine trouble and were given a ride to LaFrance's Fish Camp, Hamilton explained.

They are described as two white men, one of whom is described as being about 42 years old with brown hair and a fair complexion, about five feet eight inches tall and weighing about 185 pounds.

The other man, six feet, two inches tall and about 180 pounds, has a dark complexion and dark wavy hair. He appears to be about 45 years old and speaks with a Cajun French accent.

Anyone who has information about the two men may contact Investigator Delbert Seay at the Hancock County Sheriff's Department by calling 467-5101.

The skiff has been returned to its owner.

A RASCAL AND A ROUGE—"Louie Bluié" tells the colorful story of 76-year-old Harold "Louie Bluié" Armstrong, far left, the leader of the last black string band still making music in America. The one-hour film comes to Mississippi ETV at 10 p.m., Wednesday, Aug. 24, as part of the "P.O.V." film series.

Reflections

What Do You Miss Most?

By Jerome LeDoux, SVD

If you had to give up everything in life except one thing, which thing would you choose to keep?

Turned around, that question might read: Of all the things you could be deprived of, what would you miss the most?

Beware, for, in telling what you miss the most, you will be telling the world where your heart is.

"Remember, where your treasure is, there your heart is also." (Matthew 6:21)

You may want to retort that the two questions do not necessarily add up to the same thing, since you might choose to keep something valuable to you, whereas you might miss something else more than that which you are keeping.

True, but most of the time the two will coincide. Frankly, if you are like me, you will be very reluctant to explore your mind/heart to discover what you would miss most.

Would you miss home the most? Does your own little aerie mean so much to you that to be without it would cause you great pain?

Or would home include your parents, your spouse, your children, your siblings, your relatives, your extended family?

Do you have such a close and meaningful relationship that you would miss your friends or a very special friend most of all? What would this say about your relationships with your relatives?

Perhaps, as many other people are, you are married to your work. Would you miss your job more than anything else? If you are a workaholic, you need ask yourself why you are attracted more to a thing than to the people in your life.

If food is your thing, and if you come to the conclusion that you would miss food more than anything else, you have a serious problem to deal with. It is cold, almost inhuman, to think that anyone would put more value on food than people.

Paul puts it into perspective when he says that such people serve, "not Christ our Lord, but their own bellies." (Romans 16:18)

By the same token, you must ask yourself whether you would miss some drink more than than you would miss anything else. This deserves the same comments as does the food.

Would it be monies, properties, precious rocks and other valuables which you would miss more than anything else? Are these the treasures in life which have a greater claim on your heart than does anything else?

Does your TV set have the distinction of being the one thing which you would miss most in life? Or is it the movie house, the dance hall, the night club, the gambling den, the basketball or hockey arena, the ball park, the music concert, the hunting range, or the freedom and abandon of unlimited travel?

Would you miss the ever-boiling stew of politics most of all, together with the dealing and infighting of various organizations and special-interest groups?

Or does the spectacular panorama of the world and the universe rate as the attraction which you would miss most in life?

Could it be that literature or some aspect of the arts is that one thing which you could not do without?

Now, to tread on your toes, would you miss worship in church more than anything else? Would you miss the opportunity to thank, praise and glorify God in public?

Would you miss the Lord's Supper most of all? Would you sorely miss serving God through all your sisters and brothers?

Church Events

The First Baptist Church of Waveland will hold a homecoming day celebration on Sunday, Aug. 28, beginning at 9:45 a.m. with the Sunday School hour.

The homecoming will consist of morning services, dinner on the grounds, and an afternoon concert featuring the fishermen Quartet.

Former members are invited to attend. The church is located at the corner of Jeff Davis Avenue and St. Joseph Street in Waveland. Each family is asked to bring a covered dish for the dinner.

Diamondhead Baptist revival to feature Dr. Frank Gunn

Dr. Frank Gunn, pastor of First Baptist Church in Biloxi, will conduct revival services at Diamondhead Baptist Church August 28-September 1.

The Reverend Paul Oglesbee, pastor, announced Sunday services as 10 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. Weekday services will begin at 10 a.m. with evening program at 7 p.m.

THE FIRST FEMALE missionaries from The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, or Mormons, to serve in this area are Melanie Palmer of Mesa, Arizona, right, and Vivien Conner of Belfast, Ireland. While male Mormon missionaries are a familiar sight covering their territory on bicycles, female missionaries usually use cars, the ladies said. Each missionary volunteers for an 18 month term. "People have been really nice; we've had a good reception," Palmer said. "It's the best thing I've ever done," Conner added. When her term is over Palmer intends to return to college and Conner said she will return to Ireland and get a job. (Echo staff photo by D.C. Harvill)

British Civil War
subject of drama

It's 1649, two years after Britain's King Charles I and his followers have lost the Civil War to the Roundheads. Oliver Cromwell has moved to center stage.

That's the beginning of 'By the Sword Divided II,' a new seven-part 'Masterpiece Theatre' drama seen through the eyes of a single family divided by their loyalties to King and Parliament.

The series is filled with the same pomp and intrigue that highlighted the original series. The same kind of exciting duels and battles of life and death will come ETV viewers' way when the series premieres at 9 p.m. Sunday Aug. 28 on statewide network.

WEDDINGS, ENGAGEMENTS

MR. AND MRS. GEAN J. FISH

St. Thomas Catholic Church in Long Beach was the setting for the July 2 marriage of Deborah Ann Pierocich of Long Beach and Gean J. Fish of Biloxi.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lee (Billy) Pierocich of Long Beach. The groom's parents are Donal J. Fish Sr. of Biloxi and Beverly J. Fish of Severn, Md.

The Reverend Raul Garza celebrated a Nuptial Mass and officiated at the afternoon double ring ceremony. Readings from scripture were rendered by Charles Bezou and Cathy Pierocich. Offertory gifts were presented by Vivian Jones, aunt of the bride, and Debby Fish, sister of the groom.

Nuptial music was presented by Tom Bourdin of Pass Christian, organist, and John Bezou of Bay St. Louis, guitarist-soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white satin and beaded Alencon lace. The fitted bodice featured a sheer yoke of English net overlaid with lace. Appliques of matching lace adorned the Edwardian sleeves and tiny satin buttons closed the gown back. The softly flowing skirt featured lace appliques and extended to chapel length.

She wore a wreath of silk flowers enhanced with small peach roses and pearl sprays, which held a fingertip veil of illusion.

The bride carried a cascade of pearl white silk roses, peach rosebuds and glitter baby's breath with peach and white satin streamers.

Chris Taylor of Long Beach, sister of the bride, was matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Cathy Pierocich of Long Beach, sister of the bride; Glenda Owoc of Camp David, Md.; Chris Heathcock of Waynesboro, Miss.; and Tish Daughdrill of Leaksville, Miss.

Cari Taylor of Long Beach, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

Scott Clements of Biloxi was best man.

Groomsmen were Charles Bezou of Bay St. Louis; Cris Owoc of Camp David, Md.; Chris Taylor of Long Beach, brother-in-law of the bride; and Lee Pierocich of Long Beach, brother of the bride.

Serving as ring bearer was Daniel Fish of Biloxi, nephew of the groom.

A reception followed at Grass Lawn in Gulfport.

On return from a wedding trip to Mobile, Ala., the couple resides in Biloxi.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire
Caire

A tasty morsel of Southern cookery is the 'Hush Puppy'—a delicious Southern fried cornmeal fritter which is said to have originated during fishing and hunting expeditions along Southern shores and in the marshlands.

The outdoorsmen, at the end of the day, were cooking the fish or game over the campfire, while the hounds set up howls for their share.

Seeking a means to keep them quiet till the meal was over, so the legend goes, one outdoorsman formed the leftover cornmeal mixture into balls and dipped them into hot fat, then tossed them into the waiting canines, saying, "Hush, puppy." Thereby grew a legend and a tasty treat!

The hush puppy soon found its way to Southern plantations throughout Mississippi, Georgia, Alabama and Louisiana, and eventually appeared even on the appetizer tray at cocktail parties, smaller in size and often rolled in spicy cheese bits or dipped into a tangy sauce.

Here is an authentic hush puppy recipe, from a friend born and reared way down south in Southern Georgia—and that's Southern!

So, here's:

HUSH PUPPIES

2 cups sifted corn meal
1/2 cup flour
1 egg
1 cup diced onions
1/2 tsp. soda
3 tsp. baking powder
2 tsp. salt

Buttermilk and beer, half and half (approximately 2 cups in all, enough to make firm batter).

The secret of this recipe is the buttermilk-beer batter, so light and fluffy. Mix the dry ingredients, stir in the beaten egg, and add the onions. Mix with the buttermilk-beer until thick and the consistency you wish—some like it thicker than others do.

At this point, says Charlie, "Drink the remaining beer so that the batter won't be too thin!" At any rate, drop the batter by tablespoons into deep, hot fat (usually the fat in which the fish has been fried).

After just three or four minutes, the balls will be nicely brown. Turn as they rise to the surface, and remove with a slotted spoon, drain well on paper towels, and serve piping hot. (Approximately three dozen hush puppies, depending upon size you prefer).

ON ETV

DOCUMENTARY

It was the song that symbolized numerous struggles, and it became the national anthem of the civil rights movement. On Saturday, Aug. 27, at 5:10 p.m., Mississippi ETV will air "We Shall Overcome," a documentary that traces the history of the song of the same name.

Pass Christian public schools schedule August 26 opening

LeRoy Lizana, superintendent of Pass Christian Public School district, announced that new students enrolling in grades K-4 may report for registration at the DeLisle Elementary or Pass Christian Elementary Schools on any day, Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. New students in grades 5-8 should report to Pass Christian middle and grades 9-12 to Pass Christian High School during the same hours.

Lizana noted that parents or guardians must accompany the students to the schools for registration. All students being presented for enrollment must have an official certified birth certificate bearing a state file number. State law requires that all students enrolling in first grade must be six years of age on or before Sept. 1, 1988. Kindergarten enrollees must be five before Sept. 1, 1988.

In addition to the birth certificate, all students must have a health certificate that was issued by the county health department or a physician. The health certificate will certify that the child is free of communicable diseases.

Those students who have a (blue card) immunization record on file in the school office will not be issued new cards by the health department for the 1988-89 school term. Parents are urged to check the school offices prior to the opening date of ascertain if their child's record is on file.

The first day of the 1988-89 school term will be Friday, Aug. 26. Lizana indicated that the regular class schedules will be observed on that day. All district cafeterias will be operating and the school buses will operate to transport all students who live one mile or more from the attendance center where enrolled.

Parents desiring additional information relative to the opening of school should contact the school office. All administrative personnel are on duty.

The 1988-89 school calendar for the Pass Christian Schools begins on Aug. 26, and ends on May 31, 1989. The calendar has 175 teaching days. The school year is divided into four academic nine-week terms.

Take Off Pounds Sensibly

WAVELAND

Tops 233 Waveland met Aug. 15. Top loser of the week was Sylvia Peterson.

Meetings are held each Tuesday at 6:45 p.m. at the Waveland Library on Coleman Avenue. Weigh-ins begin at 6 p.m. until meeting time. For information contact Chris at 467-7716 or Sandra at 467-9271.

Here's a tip to make you look slimmer while you are dieting. Create a slim look by wearing clothes all in one color or shades in the same family color. Avoid bold patterns and bulky fabrics. Do not, and I stress this very strongly, wear tight-fitting clothes. Wear clothes that fit you well but not tight.
